this edited collection is an extraordinarily welcome text for those of us teaching international management in the us while observing with dismay the lack of critical awareness about the rest of the world in extant disciplinary scholarship rather than giving us the view from the rest the collection advances a temporal and spatial relational approach to understanding globalization and compels its audience to bridge the gap between the west and the rest by bringing to visibility the cultural and material encounters co constructing them in this context the various contributions deconstruct international management as market based activity exposing its mode of existence within complex power relations networks extending over time and space marta b calás university of massachusetts us organizations markets and imperial formations offers a set of innovative critiques of contemporary economic globalization a major theme of the book is that our imperialist histories have resulted in a globalization process that replicates exploitative colonialist patterns chapter authors provide insights on a variety of subjects including a critique of mainstream international management textbooks and the simplistic toolkits they offer to managers an analysis of how a universalistic view of capitalism and economic organization results in exploitative patterns of resource appropriation and documentation of the negative consequences of globalization specifically patterns of inequality and class segregation alison m konrad university of western ontario canada this authoritative book explores the nexus between organization theory globalization and imperialism and examines the effects of a global order organized around development and markets the authors explore how interconnections between organization theory and the global political economy have led to the perpetuation of inequality and active reconfigurations of life labour and the economy they contend that cultural ethnocentrism and western ideologies of development continue to inform the field of organizational studies and offer an alternate mode of theorizing through theoretical and empirical reflections the authors produce a patchwork quilt of innovatively critical approaches to globalization graduate students academics and scholars in the fields of management and organizational sciences as well as postcolonial development and globalization studies will find this book of particular interest it is also an invaluable read for international management and strategy scholars including those focused on multinational operations in the third world market driven strategy is a buzzword that many business people use without fully grasping its meaning now george day the inventor of the phrase follows up his groundbreaking book market driven strategy with practical advice for managers who want to better communicate with their customers perform miles ahead of their competitors and continually be responsive to both based on nearly a decade of research teaching and consulting on the topic the market driven organization shows how to apply day s essential marketing theories to an entire company complete with diagnostic questionnaires and other assessment tools to identify strengths and weaknesses and lead companies through change the market driven organization is an indispensable guide that will provide managers with crucial insights drawn from the most thorough research of the decade a dynamic framework for studying social emergence the social sciences have sophisticated models of choice and equilibrium but little understanding of the emergence of novelty where do new alternatives new organizational forms and new types of people come from combining biochemical insights about the origin of life with innovative and historically oriented social network analyses john padgett and walter powell develop a theory about the emergence of organizational market and biographical novelty from the coevolution of multiple social networks they demonstrate that novelty arises from spillovers across intertwined networks in different domains in the short run actors make relations but in the long run relations make actors this theory of novelty emerging from intersecting production and biographical flows is developed through formal deductive modeling and through a wide range of original historical case studies padgett and powell build on the biochemical concept of autocatalysis the chemical definition of life and then extend this autocatalytic reasoning to social processes of production and communication padgett and powell along with other colleagues analyze a very wide range of cases of emergence they look at the emergence of organizational novelty in early capitalism and state formation they examine the transformation of communism and they analyze with detailed network data contemporary science based capitalism the biotechnology industry regional high tech clusters and the open source community an innovative graduate textbook that explains modern industrial organization by blending theory with real world applications
